PREFACE.

The Buxton mineral water is discharged from several openings in very large quantities, at the temperature of 82 degrees, Fahrenheit. It is charged with nitrogen gas in, probably, a larger degree than any other mineral water. This gas is presented in water, which has, otherwise, alkaline, earthy, and saline properties; and is remarkably detergent and softening to the skin when used as a bath; while it is free from odour or disagreeable taste, is clear and bright in its appearance, and of a singularly beautiful faintly blue colour.

The medicinal action of the water, whether used as baths, or drunk, has been from time immemorial known to be great in relieving or curing all conditions of a rheumatic or gouty character. It is stated by Dr. Jones, so long ago as the year 1572, that it was then used for the relief of the same ailments as it is at the present time.

Dr. Jones says that in his time Buxton was much resorted to by poor afflicted persons; and towards the end of the sixteenth century this was considered to be so serious an injury by the inhabitants of the adjoining chapelry of Fairfield, as to render them unable to provide funds for the maintenance of their chaplain, by reason of the urgent and continued claims of the many poor sufferers resorting to the Buxton Baths, as set forth in a petition on this matter addressed by them to Queen Elizabeth. These poor persons had been from time immemorial so far aided, as to have had gratuitous baths of the mineral water provided for them; and there seems to have been a fund called the "Treasury of the Bath," by which their pecuniary necessities were more or less ministered to. Dr. Jones writes, in reference to this fund, what may be quoted in this place:—"If any think this magisterial imposing on people's pockets, let them consider their abilities and the sick poor's necessities, and think whether they do not in idle pastimes throw away in vain, twice as much yearly; it may entail the blessings of them who are ready to perish upon you, and will afford a pleasant after-reflection. God has given you physic for nothing; let the poor and afflicted (it may be members of Christ) have a little of your money,—it may be the better for your own health: Heaven might have put them in your room and you in theirs; then a supply would have been acceptable to you."

Beyond this somewhat vague earlier history, there is no record of the Buxton Bath Charity until the year 1785, of which date there is extant at the Hospital, a document (vide pages 34-35), apparently an annual report of the Institution, from which time the use of the baths and waters and pecuniary aid had been regularly given to the poor patients until the year 1859, when the Devonshire Hospital was provided for the reception of the patients.

It has been gathered from the annual reports that in the eighteen years from 1820, 14,906 patients were admitted to the benefits of the Charity, of which number 12,608 were discharged as cured or much relieved.

In the twenty following years, from 1838 to 1858, 23,319 patients were admitted; and of these, 16,575 were cured or much relieved; 5,859 were relieved in some degree; and 885 were no better at the time of discharge.

The Devonshire Hospital was opened for the reception of the patients of the Charity in the year 1859. It is the successful result of the conversion of a very extensive range of building, erected and used as stables since the commencement of the present century. The structure, which is of important and substantial character, surrounds a parterre of considerable extent, and contains a colonnade of handsome proportions, is situated on a commanding eminence, presenting views of the town and valley of Buxton, and is near to the baths, the railway stations, and the principal buildings.

From the year 1820, then, to the beginning of September, 1858, when the Hospital was opened, or in 38 years, the Institution had received 38,225 patients; of which number 35,042 were beneficially treated, and 2,183 were very partially if at all relieved. During those 38 years the Buxton Bath Charity received, on an average, upwards of 1,000 patients every year, and afforded cure or marked relief to 922 of that number. To a very large proportion of this important number of poor sufferers, chiefly from chronic rheumatism, the Charity gave a weekly allowance of 6s. during their stay in Buxton, in addition to all other benefits; until the funds became so seriously impaired that the weekly money allowance was necessarily reduced to 5s., at which sum it remained until the opening of the Hospital. From the time of reducing the weekly money allowance, the pecuniary prosperity of the Buxton Bath Charity may be dated. The funds accumulated year by year, until the time of rebuilding the Buxton Baths, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire, when a capital of nearly £3,000 had been gathered together by the scrupulous management of the Trustees. The names may be mentioned, first and particularly, of the late Bishop Spencer, at one time a trustee, and incumbent of Buxton, and more recently one of the Vice-Presidents of the Hospital; of Mr. Heacock, and Mr. Smithers, its successive Treasurers; and of Sir Charles Scudamore, Mr. Page, Mr. Cumming, Dr. Carstairs, and the Rev. R. P. Hull Brown,—as being no longer alive to witness and take part in the present development of the Charity; and also in order of seniority as to connection with the Institution, of Dr. Robertson, and of the Hon. and Rev. F. R. Grey, as still living to rejoice in the well-doing of the Buxton Charity and its Hospital. Of these £3,000, £500 was judiciously expended on the rebuilding of the Charity Natural Baths; the large remaining sum which those baths cost, and the whole cost of the Hot Baths of the Charity, having been paid by the munificence of the late Duke of Devonshire. Again, in 1853-4, when the proposal of a hospital to receive the patients of the Institution was brought before the public by Mr. Smithers and the other Trustees, the sum of £1,000 from the accumulated fund was given towards the Hospital; leaving a residue of £1,500 consols, which sum remains thus invested. (See Estate Account.)

The history and doings of the Buxton Bath Charity have thus been summarily brought down to the time of forming the Hospital, the expenses of which were defrayed by the individual and collective liberality of the Trustees; by special subscriptions from the public; by the proceeds of a bazaar, that was bountifully supplied and supported, &c.—a total sum of £6,000 having been thus got together, and expended on the conversion of this valuable building to hospital purposes. This conversion with its anxious details and successful results, was mainly due to the untiring exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, aided by the architectural skill of Mr. H. Currey, and the liberal consideration of the late Duke of Devonshire.

It forms an interesting episode in this history, that, in the winter of 1862-3, during what will be long remembered as the Cotton Famine, a special fund was obtained, chiefly by the exertions of the late Mr. Wilmot, and 100 young women, under 30 years of age, selected by the Relief Committees of their respective towns, as being most likely to be benefited by the change of air and the comforts of the Hospital, were received, and taken care of, as to food, and as to medicines, and restored to their homes in the subsequent spring, with renovated health and strength, and full of gratitude for what they had received. The balance of the subscriptions amounting, with interest, to £256, was invested as a separate fund for ever, to enable poor female operatives from factory towns to be received into the Hospital.

A very important circumstance in the history of the Hospital is that the grounds in front of it have been, with much kind consideration, made over to the Institution, on the part of the Duke of Devonshire; maintaining the detached position of the building, enhancing its appearance, and adding to the out-door advantages of the patients.

The building is the property of His Grace the Duke of Devonshire; and the conversion of it to the use of the Hospital for ever, on the payment of the rent of £5 yearly, was benevolently granted by the late Duke of Devonshire, as testified on the stone on the south front of the building, on which is inscribed: "The last munificent Charity of William Spencer, 6th Duke of Devonshire, K.G., who allowed these buildings to be converted to the use of the sick poor, January, A.D., 1858." A considerable sum of money that had been collected for the construction of the Hospital was expended upon the work. The walls and roof of the structure were fortunately found to be in good preservation; the interior was entirely removed, and re-arranged; the subsoil carefully taken away; and about two-thirds of the building occupied for the purposes of the Hospital, by a chaplain's house, a dispensary, and a dispenser's apartments, a house for the master and matron, kitchen, day-rooms, dining-hall, and spacious dormitories, affording separate beds for 120 patients, in addition to the beds provided for cases of accident, and in addition to the rooms required for the servants of the establishment.

During the year 1868, a legal Conveyance of the buildings and grounds of the Hospital was given to the Trustees by the present Duke of Devonshire at the nominal rent of five shillings yearly, on the condition that they shall be used exclusively for the purposes of the Charity. (A copy of the Conveyance is appended at page 27.)

During the year 1872, the duties of Chaplain to the Hospital were kindly undertaken by the Vicar of Buxton, and the Chaplain's House was converted to the general purposes of the Hospital; the number of beds for patients was raised to 150; and better accommodation afforded to the out-patients, dispensary, &c.

During the twenty-five years since the Hospital was opened, there have been 35,185 patients under treatment, of which number 30,815 have been treated beneficially; and 3,866 or about one-ninth of the whole, were not suffering from any of the forms of rheumatism, but were such cases as are ordinarily met with in hospitals. On the average of the twenty-five years, the patients remained under treatment 24.11 days; and 31,319 cases of rheumatism, embracing every conceivable variety of this obstinate disease, were thus extensively relieved by the remedial agency of the Buxton mineral waters.

During the year 1881 the great extension works of the Hospital were practically completed, and the Hospital was formally opened by the Patron, His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, and the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund, on the 11th of October. The accommodation for the additional number of patients under the grant of £24,000 from the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund was obtained by the removal of the two walls which traversed the entire circuit of the main building, and formed the corridor communicating with the various wards; the whole space from the outside to the inside of the building was thus thrown open, and inner and outer windows supplied to all the wards; the internal area was thus increased very greatly, and ample space provided for wards and day-rooms to receive and accommodate the 300 patients. But an independent means of access to all the rooms of the Hospital was rendered necessary in consequence of this arrangement, and this could only be obtained by covering the large area of the interior, and giving access to the ground floor rooms from the floor of the inner basement, and to the rooms of the upper floor, from a gallery above this. This arrangement has, however, not only supplied the means of access to all parts of the Hospital, but has enabled all the wards to be practically detached from one another, almost giving the advantage of the deservedly-praised pavilion principle of hospital construction, while it has facilitated the ventilation of the whole building to an important degree, and increased the free and ready admission of light to every part of the interior. The gallery has with much ingenuity been constructed exclusively of bricks and iron, by which it has been rendered entirely fire-proof, giving all possible security in the event of fire. The great, covered, dry, warmed area of half-an-acre, canopied by the largest dome that has ever been erected, supplies very obvious and valuable contingent advantages for the recreation of the patients in all cold or doubtful weather; advantages which must represent a value to the afflicted and often crippled inmates beyond any calculation. As the whole of the main building is now devoted to the patients of the Hospital, new buildings have been erected on the north side for all purposes that might be desirably detached, such as kitchens and kitchen offices, laundries, engine rooms, cellars, store-rooms, bedrooms for household servants, separate wards for accident cases, and rooms for the immediate isolation of any cases of infectious characted that might become manifested. The £24,000 expended from the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund gives a prior claim on the 150 additional beds to the nominees of the Fund; and these beds have been allotted to the principal Hospitals within the area of the manufacturing districts. It cannot but be a subject of much regret that the extension has cost a larger sum than the grant by probably not less than £4,000. It is of evident importance that this outlay should not be left as a charge on the means and resources of the Hospital. It is hoped that by means of a bazaar, to be held in the Great Hall of the Hospital at some early date, a portion of this money may be obtained. The influence of all the supporters of the Hospital is anxiously and earnestly looked for.

This prefatory account has seemed to be needful for the information of those not already acquainted with the nature and merits of this Institution.

W. H. R.

REPORT
COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT
OF THE
DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL
AND
BUXTON BATH CHARITY,
FOR THE YEAR 1883.

The Members of the Committee of Management are enabled to report, year by year, the great and increasing usefulness of this Charitable Institution, adding, as it has done during the last twenty-five years, to the value of the ancient Buxton Bath Charity, by affording board and lodging, and every desirable care and attendance, to the Patients of the Hospital.

The greater power and usefulness of this building, in consequence of its more recent extension, is most interesting and satisfactory, and must be particularly gratifying to all who have been more immediately concerned in providing the funds for the extension, and in carrying it out. The experience of the second year, since the extension has been practically completed, confirms, in the fullest degree, the hopes and expectations of all concerned, as to the greater power and opportunity given to the Executive of the Hospital, of adding to the number of the Patients, and to the hopefulness of curative results. During the year, 2,230 In-patients have been admitted. It may be noticed that this is a larger number of Patients than has ever been received in the Hospital during any year. It exceeds the number of Patients received during 1882 by 374, and the number received during 1881 by 628. It is a no less gratifying statement that 410 of these additional Patients have been sent to the Hospital during the year under the powers of the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund; 234 Patients having been received under these powers during 1882; evidencing the broader and broader basis which the extension has given to the usefulness of the Hospital, and as these Patients are not provided for either by the subscriptions to the Hospital, or by any of its other sources of revenue, they add in no degree to its financial liabilities.

Of the 2,230 In-patients, 2,067 are reported as having been discharged improved, 101 as no better; it has necessarily to be regretted that no fewer than 10 had to be sent away on account of drunkenness; 4 were discharged at their own request; 2 were found to be unfit cases; 6 left without report; 2 had died, and 38 remained on the books on the 31st of December.

The number of Out-patients admitted during the year was 234, or within 9 of the number admitted during the preceding year. Of these, 193 are reported to have been discharged improved, 4 to have been no better, 34 to have left without report, and 3 to have been on the books on the 31st December. The Subscribers are again reminded that these unreported cases must be most unsatisfactory to all concerned. It is a matter which can only be dealt with by the Subscribers who recommend them. It is a gratifying circumstance that many of these Patients belong to the better classes of poor people, and deserve every charitable consideration, as not being able to obtain the medical advice and the gratuitous use of the Baths and waters without the help of this Institution; some consist of those who cannot defer the visit to Buxton until available vacant beds are obtainable, and probably the majority of them may not have been able to obtain In-patient's recommendations.

It had been a matter of regret, during the earlier years of the existence of the Hospital, that no report seemed obtainable as to the final result of the Hospital treatment; and during the last ten years a form, printed on a postal card, has been given to every In-patient on leaving the Hospital, to be filled up and returned six weeks after discharge. During the ten years 12,305 of these cards have been received, 8,873 are reported as improved, 3,376 as no better, and 56 as having died. During 1883, 1,890 of these postal cards have been received, and 1,345 are self-reported, six weeks after having left the Hospital, as improved, 537 as no better, and 8 are reported as having died. The long duration, the chronic character, and the severity of a very large number of these cases, must be borne in mind in estimating the value of this record. It may, perhaps, be imperfect at the best, and the inferences from it may be more or less uncertain. Any remaining lameness would influence the report of the Patient, or any other salient interference with health, strength, or ability, and notwithstanding any amount of general improvement in most particulars, constitutional or otherwise. Moreover, the number of the deaths thus recorded, within so few weeks after leaving the Hospital, is sufficient index to the grave nature of many of these cases. But, taking all the circumstances into consideration, as to the nature of the principal ailment, viz.: rheumatism, as to its probable chronic condition, and as to the failure of previous treatment, it must be held that the results thus reported are remarkable and satisfactory beyond any reasonable expectation.

The average number of Patients daily resident in the Hospital has been 145.2. The number in the Hospital has, as usual, varied considerably during the several months of the year. The number of beds occupied during January was only 33.9; during February, only 57.2; during March, only 92.2; during April, only 118.2; during May, 185.7; during June, 219.4; during July, 253.8; during August, 271.8; during September, 238.6; during October, 141.5; during November, only 80.8; and during December, only 50.9.

The average number of days in the Hospital per Patient has been 23.8. It is a reasonable assumption that a longer stay in the Hospital would often be desirable if the means were afforded.

The average cost per day of each Patient has been 2s. 3½d. The average cost for each Patient for three weeks has been £2 8s. 1½d. There is a certain outlay on what are known as medical comforts or medical necessities, dependent upon extra diets, specially ordered by the medical staff. This charge is believed to be as small as would be desirable. A great difficulty in hospital management must always be to steer a middle course between kindly expenditure and unwise or needless outlay. Severe cases must add proportionally to expenditure. The expenditure on the Hospital baths, &c., constitutes a much greater addition to the outlay of the Institution. It will be observed that there is the fractional increase in the charge per Patient, beyond that of the year 1882, of nearly one farthing per day. This small increase appears to be due entirely to additional price of provisions.

The financial position of the Hospital has been less affected, not only during the past year, but during the last five years, than might have been expected, and probably less than has been reported by similar Institutions throughout the country. The important sum of £1,089 16s. 3d., received on account of the Patients admitted under the powers of the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund, must be gratefully mentioned as most helpful in maintaining so much of the cost of the extended work of the Hospital. The receipts from annual subscriptions, from casual subscriptions, and from donations received at the Hospital have been severally somewhat in excess of the preceding year; but the donations received through the Buxton Hotels and Lodging-houses have been considerably less. The offertories and collections in Churches and Chapels, principally on what is now called Hospital Sunday, have been nearly the same as the preceding year, but have been received from a much larger number of Churches and Chapels. This must be a gratifying circumstance, and be hopeful as to the future. The receipts for extra time of In-patients, and for extra Out-patients, have been less than in the preceding year. Additional expenditure has been evidently due to increased work, or to a larger number of severe cases. It is, moreover, more or less strange, but probably quite true, that a larger Institution seems to be always proportionally more expensive. It may be trusted that this is due to more complete working, attended with a so far more satisfactory result. It is, at all events, a thankful record that the income of the Hospital should be found to have been fairly proportioned to the larger outlay occasioned by its extended usefulness.

Four legacies have been received during the year, amounting to £977 19s. 2d. One of these amounting to £450, under the Will of Mrs. Harriet Barnes, of Bentley Cottage, Ashbourne; one of £10 under the Will of Mrs. Irton, of Calder Abbey; one of £17 19s. 2d. under the Will of Mr. James Thurman, of Nottingham; and one of £500 under the Will of Mr. E. E. Mollady, of Manchester.

The Life Subscriptions received during the year amount to £199 10s.

The total sum obtained from Offertories and Collections in Churches and Chapels has been £180 3s. 1d. Offertories have only been granted in the Buxton Churches on the one Sunday. Those at St. John's and St. James' Churches have amounted to £91 4s. 6d. Efforts have been made during recent years by the unanimous and urgent wish of the members of the Committee of Management to obtain united action in aid of the Hospital from all the Churches and Chapels in Buxton and its neighbourhood on the given Sunday of the year. This wish has been readily and kindly responded to by the clergy and ministers of the Buxton, Burbage, Fairfield, Wormhill, Earl Sterndale, and Harpur Hill Churches, Trinity Episcopal Chapel, Bottesford Church, Arley Chapel, Belvoir Castle Church, Over Tabley, Taxal, Ketton, New Mills, Knipton, Bradbourne, and Baldidon Churches; Aldwick Mission Room, the Congregational Church, Buxton; Presbyterian Services, and the Buxton Wesleyan Chapel.

It is subject of reasonable regret that collections have not been obtained from many other Churches and Chapels. More might be expected to be received from these influential sources of benevolent action, and especially when situated in the manufacturing centres of population, obtaining, as these towns and districts do, a very large proportion of the benefit derived from the work of the Hospital.

As to the working of the Hospital, the powers of the Subscribers, &c., these remain as heretofore. The 150 beds previously at the disposal of the Subscribers for the admission of the Patients recommended by them, remain exclusively subject to their recommendation. The 150 beds created by the £24,000 granted by the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund are subject to the prior claim on behalf of the Patients recommended under their authority. If not so utilised, these additional beds are at the disposal of the Patients recommended by the Subscribers, on the same terms as paid to the Hospital, under the arrangement with the Governors of the Convalescent Fund, namely, the payment of the actual average cost of the Patient to the funds of the Hospital. This evidently equitable arrangement, in reference to the financial position and necessities of the Hospital, in reference to the arrangement with the Governors of the Convalescent Fund, and in reference to the utilization of the vacant beds, has been acted upon by 163 Subscribers during the past year, and seems likely to be a most valuable means of increasing usefulness, without adding to the financial responsibilities of the Institution.

The final details of the Hospital Extension are virtually completed. The Baths for the use of the Patients, doubled in number, are found to be equal to the necessities of the Hospital. The new Drinking Well, for the exclusive use of the Patients of the Hospital, has relieved the public wells from undue pressure, and is a convenience to the Patients of the Institution. The arbitration which was found to be unavoidable for the adjustment of the final claims of the principal contractor, has not yet been completed, owing to the illness of the architect, and other causes. It is hoped that the award of the arbitrator cannot be much longer delayed. In the meantime, the advantage of the re-construction to the general powers of the Hospital, and the evident comfort and benefit of the Patients, is so great, as to be represented by no reasonable expenditure beyond the grant from the Convalescent Fund. The several advantages that have been secured under the improved and extended arrangements are thus great, quite independently of the indescribable advantage of having enabled the stables, with all their contingencies, to be removed to a distance from the Hospital.

The 150 beds assigned to the Governors of the Cotton Districts Convalescent Fund, have, with great kindness and judgment, been allotted to the several hospitals, &c., of Manchester, Salford, Ashton-under-Lyne, Blackburn, Lancaster, Macclesfield, Preston, Stockport, Wigan, and Oldham. If the conditions of this arrangement continue to be strictly complied with, and such cases only are sent as are most suitable to the curative influences of the Buxton Waters, and, in fact, the same class of cases as those heretofore received, the value of this Charity will have been doubled, without increased anxiety as to its maintenance by the benevolence of the public.

The Hospital has to lament the death of the Right Hon. the Lord Overstone, who, during fifteen years, has been kind enough to occupy the important position of President of the Institution. The Hospital has been greatly indebted to Lord Overstone, from time to time, for munificent benefactions to its funds.

The Committee of Management has sustained a loss in the death of the Rev. Augustus A. Bagshawe, M.A., Vicar of Wormhill, who had been a Trustee and Member of the Committee during 12 years.

Dr. Robertson has again been unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Committee of Management.

The Sheffield and Rotherham Banking Company have again been unanimously re-elected Treasurers of the Hospital.

The Chairman is ex-officio a member of the House Committee, and Mr. R. R. Duke, Mr. I. Walton, Mr. P. Le Gros, Dr. Dickson, Mr. Josiah Taylor, Mr. G. F. Barnard, Mr. E. C. Milligan, Mr. G. Wainwright, and the Rev. W. Malam, have again been unanimously re-elected members of this Committee.

Mr. A. Schofield and Mr. S. Taylor have again been unanimously re-elected Auditors.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Clergymen and Ministers who have allowed sermons to be preached in their Churches and Chapels on behalf of the Hospital, and also to the Clergymen and Ministers who have preached the sermons.

The sermons preached on behalf of the Hospital in the Churches and Chapels of Buxton and the neighbourhood, were by the Rev. W. Lear, B.A., the Rev. A. Pavey, M.A., Vicar of Mansfield; the Rev. J. G. H. Stamper, Vicar of Burbage; the Rev. F. W. A. Wilkinson, Vicar of Fairfield; the Rev. G. Rogerson, Vicar of Peak Forest; the Rev. Gordon Robertson, M.A., Vicar of Earl Sterndale; the Rev. C. S. Green, Minister of Trinity Episcopal Chapel; the Rev. B. Dexter, Incumbent of Harpur Hill; the Rev. Alexander Hannay, D.D., the Rev. J. W. Blore, and the Rev. J. T. McGaw.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the Hotels and Lodging-houses of Buxton, and also to the Presidents at the public dinner tables of the several Hotels; to the Managers and Attendants, and to all who have in any way exerted themselves to obtain support for the Hospital; the powers of the Institution depend much on these exertions. The interests of Buxton are so greatly promoted by the prosperity and usefulness of the Hospital, that the claims of the Institution are urged upon the inhabitants as being identical with the interests of the town.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Chairman and Members of the Buxton Local Board, for permission to place conspicuously in St. Ann's Well, a newspaper box in aid of the Hospital.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Chairman and Directors of the Palace Hotel Company, for permission to place conspicuously in the Entrance Hall of the Hotel, a donation box in aid of the Hospital.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Chairman and Directors of the Buxton Improvements Company, for permission to place conspicuously in the Entrance to the Pavilion, a donation and newspaper box in aid of the Hospital.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Proprietors of the Newspapers in which the quarterly reports, weekly reports, and meteorological reports, from the Hospital, are inserted. In no way can the interests of the Charity be more effectually promoted.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the ladies and gentlemen who have acted as Visitors to the Hospital during the several months of the year. The value of such services may be obviously very important; it is hoped that it will be increasingly felt, that these official visits should be frequent, and that the visits should not be of merely formal character, but that details should be enquired into, and any suggestions and remarks entered in the book kept for this purpose.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Members of the Medical Staff for their gratuitous services to the Hospital; any adequate pecuniary compensation for their services must be always beyond the means of the Institution, and probably would not be received from the Charity if it could be offered.

The thanks of the Committee are hereby tendered to the Honorary Chaplain, the Rev. W. Malam, M.A., Vicar of Buxton; to Dr. Sykes, the Honorary Meteorologist; to the Treasurers, to the Auditors, and to the various Officials, whether honorary or otherwise, who, in their several capacities, have served the Hospital during the year.

It will be noticed that the Annual Meeting of the Subscribers is to be held on the First Saturday in May, at half-past three in the Afternoon.

Statements are submitted of the Revenue Account for the year ending December 31st, 1883, the Estate Account, and General Balance Sheet; together with the Annual Statement of the Wilmot Relief Fund Account.

There is a nucleus for a Samaritan Fund, kindly and chiefly contributed by Frederick Cooper, Esq., Inspector General of Hospitals, aided by J. H. Challis, Esq., Miss Hall, Douglas Hebson, Esq., Alfred Hardwick, Esq., Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Garner, G. Walton, Esq., Dr. Sanderson, the Rev. T. France Hayland, F. A. Burrows, Esq., J. J. Edgar, Esq., Mrs. Nesfield, the Rev. F. G. Hodgson, the Rev. B. Winfield, H. Robinson Esq., Mrs. Pym Reading, Miss Forrest, Lady Emily Williams, Miss Annie Eyre, and the King William Fourth Lodge of Odd-Fellows, Chesterfield, intended for the relief of urgent cases of distress on being discharged from the Hospital, the interest of which is available at the discretion of the Officials under the authority of the House Committee. During the past year a portion of this small fund has been utilized for the relief of necessitous Patients upon being discharged from the Hospital. Contributions to the Fund are earnestly solicited. The Statement of Account for the past year is submitted.

It is gratifying to state that Miss Emma Mitchell, Miss Russell, and other friends have again sent a quantity of warm clothing, &c., for the Patients; and that Sir A. Sassoon, Lady Borthwick, Lady Emily Williams, Mrs. Luck, Miss Trimmer, Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. Greenup, Mr. Fred. Coventry, the Rev. T. Eagar, Mrs. Ault, the Rev. F. W. A. Wilkinson, Mrs. Hague, Miss Donner, Mr. W. D. Sutton, Mrs. Chandos Pole-Gell, Mrs. Leigh, Mr. B. P. Billbrough, Miss Armistead, Mrs. Malkin, Mr. W. W. Mackay, Mr. Barker, Mr. D. Johnstone, Mr. G. W. Grant Wilson, and various other ladies and gentlemen, have sent books, illustrated newspapers, periodicals, illuminated texts, tracts, &c., for the use of the Patients. The Vicar of Buxton and the Incumbent of Harpur Hill have presented the offerings of fruit and flowers from the Harvest Festivals in their respective churches. Gifts of fruit have also been received from other friends for the use of the Patients.

Mr. B. W. Bentley, of the Quadrant, Buxton, has, with kind and liberal consideration, presented to the Hospital a life-size photographic portrait of His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, as patron of the Hospital. The portrait is an admirable likeness, it is framed suitably in solid oak, and, in accordance with Mr. Bentley's request, it has been hung in the Entrance Hall of the Hospital.

The Countess of Meath has presented for the use of the Hospital Patients two seats, which have been placed at her ladyship's expense in recesses midway between the Baths and the Hospital. The Countess of Erne and Mrs. Wyatt have each presented a wheel chair for the use of Patients who are unable to walk.

Mrs. and Miss Cooke, of Edgemoor, Buxton, and Dr. and Mrs. H. Taylor, of Bootle, have presented a large collection of mounted pictures for the permanent decoration of the wards of the Hospital.

Two plaques, painted by Miss M. Donald, have been presented and sold for the benefit of the Hospital.

Mr. Fred. Coventry has presented various appliances for games for the entertainment of the Patients.

To these kind donors the Committee desire to tender their thanks, and would also add their acknowledgments to the Misses Smith and Arthur, of Craigholme, for the aid rendered to the Hospital by a concert in the Pavilion by their pupils, the proceeds of which were given to the Hospital; and to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted Mr. Aptommas, the well-known harpist, at a concert in the Hospital, by which the sum of £16 was obtained in aid of the Hospital.

A valuable public clock has been placed in the Clock Tower of the Hospital, by His Grace the Duke of Devonshire. It is of great advantage as completing the Clock Tower and making it useful, and is of importance, not only to the Hospital, but to the people of Buxton generally. The clock not only strikes the hours on a bell of full size and tone, but marks the quarters by what are known as the Cambridge chimes, with much musical sweetness. The dials are lighted by gas at night, by the kind consideration of the Buxton Local Board.

A report has been received from Mr. Edwin Simpson, the kind promoter of the Library Fund, &c., for the Patients of the Hospital, stating that the books in question are largely read by the less afflicted Patients of the Institution. It is hoped that this use of the valuable collection of books may continue to be adequate to expectation, and that, perhaps, other friends to the comfort and edification of the Patients, may from time to time add to the number of interesting books. Mr. Simpson's continued services to this good work deserves grateful acknowledgment. It is pleasing to note that Mr. Simpson designates himself as "Honorary Librarian."

The quarterly reports from the Hospital, during the year, have been rendered especially valuable by the introduction of a classified summary of the medical work and its results, by Dr. Lorimer and Mr. Craig, the medical residents. Mr. Craig has been obliged to resign his appointment, to the regret of the Committee of Management, from impaired health, and his position has been filled by the appointment of Dr. Buist.

Dr. Lorimer and Dr. Buist submit herewith a tabulated account of the year's medical work, which cannot but be interesting to the Subscribers and supporters of the Hospital, as most satisfactory evidence of the value of this Institution. The ability and painstaking care of the report are testified by internal evidence, and deserve the thankful consideration of the Committee.

Referring to the first class of cases, for which treatment at Buxton is specially suited, the subjoined table shows the sex and period of life at which the disease began, with the nature of the commencement:—

The proportion of cases of rheumatism complicated with heart disease, was as follows:—

MALES :

37 per cent. of those who had had an acute attack.
 12 " " " " " a sub-acute attack.
 4 " " " " " who suffered from chronic rheumatism only.

FEMALES :

38 per cent. after acute.
 21 " " " sub-acute.

The period of life at which acute rheumatism is liable to be followed by disease of the heart is shown by the following table :—

50 " 60 "	18	6 == 33 "

Referring again to the cases of rheumatism :—

The structures affected, the extent and amount of structural alterations and disablement, form a basis of classification in four divisions.

CLASS I. contained all those cases in which the following conditions were present :—

- (1) Articular contractions.
- (2) Swelling and depositions in and around the joints affected.
- (3) Partial, and in some cases complete, ankylosis with
- (4) Thickening of fasciae.
- (5) Muscular atrophy.
- (6) Cardiac complication.

This class contained the most aggravated cases, and numbered 105.

CLASS II. contained those cases in which the above conditions were present to a less degree, or some of them (especially ankylosis and articular contraction) were absent altogether.

The class numbered 498.

CLASS III. contained those cases in which articular changes were only slightly marked.

Frequently, however, they were complicated with cardiac affections. These numbered 701.

CLASS IV. contained all cases of rheumatism of muscular aponeurosis, and sheaths of tendons, &c.

These numbered 212.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS.

The subjoined table indicates the sex and period of life :—

	Males.		Females.

In 7 of these cases there was disease of the heart, traceable in 5 to a previous attack of acute rheumatism.

GOUT.

68 Males. 2 Females.

Of the 68 male cases 32 occurred in painters and plumbers, who had been exposed to the poisonous action of lead. The remaining 36 cases occurred in publicans, butlers, &c., and in 11 of the 36 there was also a hereditary predisposition to gout.

In both the females there was a hereditary predisposition.

The cases of SCIATICA were 137.

GONORRHOEAL RHEUMATISM.

Of the 27 cases of Gonorrhœal Rheumatism, 15 occurred between the ages of 20 and 25 years.

The joints affected in the majority of the cases were the ankles and knees.

CURATIVE RESULTS IN CASES OF RHEUMATISM.

Passing now to the curative results, the benefit and value of the treatment may be best estimated by classifying the cases in four divisions, according to the severity and the amount of the disablement in the structures affected, the duration of the disease, and the period of life, and existing complications.

I. The first class contains the cases of the most aggravated character; where on admission the Patients were completely crippled, and in whom locomotion was quite impossible; where extensive alterations of the joints and surrounding structures existed, and the muscles were wasted; and where from long duration of the disease the general health had given way, or intercurrent complications had arisen.

This division comprised 105 cases: sixteen have made a complete and perfect recovery; fifty-five received varying degrees of benefit; thirty-four were discharged uninfluenced by the treatment. One case in particular, received from a Hospital for Incurables, who had been unable to feed himself, or to stand, was able, on discharge, to walk for some time with assistance under the Dome of the Hospital. This illustrates one of the ways to which the great space in question is used with advantage.

II. The second division differs from the first, not in kind, but in degree. It comprised all cases where joint disablement existed in a less severe form than in the preceding class; where Patients were able to go about but with difficulty; and where the general health was less impaired. It contained 498 cases, all of whom received varying degrees of benefit.

One note-worthy case, re-admitted, had been seven years crippled, and five years confined to a fixed sedentary position, and was enabled to walk, with the aid of crutches, several hundred yards.

III. The third class contains those cases in which rheumatism, having insidiously commenced, had become less pronouncedly chronic, and had not produced much damage in the articular structures; where there was pain without deformity; where the disease was combated at an earlier period of its history; and, secondly, it contains all cases which owed their origin to an attack of acute rheumatism not unfrequently in younger subjects.

It contained 701 cases.

The large majority were much improved.

IV. The fourth class includes all cases of lumbago, muscular rheumatism, and articular rheumatism, occurring in old age, in which the cases are often associated with the degenerative structural changes of advanced life, and the diseases incident to it.

This group contained 212 cases, and even in them the amount of relief was satisfactory and encouraging.

In reference to those cases in Class I. who made a complete recovery, it may be observed that although the term of treatment was more prolonged, and the attention bestowed greater, the result finally culminated in a curative achievement the value of which cannot be over estimated.

In Class III. the curative progress was rapid, the benefit marked, and, except where intercurrent complications existed, lasting benefit was realised, as these are for the most part known to have remained well since their discharge.

There were two cases of death during the year, both from disease of the heart; considering the large number of cases complicated by disease of the heart, it is satisfactory that the mortality was so low.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS.

Of the 227 cases of Rheumatoid Arthritis treated during the year, 20 per cent. left in statu quo; of the remainder, all derived benefit, varying from relief in the more aggravated cases, to complete recovery in those less advanced.

Rheumatoid Arthritis, a disease probably of neuropathic origin, frequently associated with debilitated conditions, is generally regarded as an intractable and obstinate affection; and although in its advanced stages it would be impossible to hope for articular regeneration, yet the above results show that in its less advanced stages at any rate, the disease may be successfully combated.

GOUT.

The curative results in Gout, except in advanced cases with hereditary history, and whose previous habits of life had undermined their constitutions, or where the system was saturated with lead, were satisfactory and encouraging.

SCIATICA.

A similar statement may be made in regard to the cases of Sciatica, except where complicated with organic disease.

With regard to other cases which left without benefit, they did not properly belong to the class of cases which are known to receive benefit from treatment at Buxton.

At the Annual Meeting of the Committee of Management, held at the Hospital on Saturday, the 5th of January, 1884, it was moved by Mr. Walton, seconded by Mr. Duke, and resolved unanimously, that the thanks of the Committee be given to the Chairman (Dr. Robertson) for the report, and for his assiduous attention to the interests of the Hospital; that the report be adopted, and that it be printed and circulated as usual, with the Classified Summary of the Medical Work by the Medical Residents, the Annual Statement of Accounts, &c., amongst the Subscribers and supporters of the Institution.

BUXTON BATH CHARITY, A.D. 1785.

COPY OF REPORT OF THE CHARITY,
FOR THE YEAR 1785.

The Original is in the Hospital, and was presented by Dr. Robertson, December 29th, 1871.

B U X T O N .

RESOLUTIONS by the Stewards of the several Houses at Buxton, on behalf of the Contributors to the Charitable Fund established here, for the better regulation of the Charity, made September 13th, 1785.

1st. As to the Contribution.

WHEREAS, at the commencement of this Charity, in the year 1779, instituted for the purpose of rendering the Beneficence of the Noble Proprietor and his Ancestors (in setting apart a Bath for the Use of the Poor) more extensively beneficial; two Stewards were appointed in each House kept open for the Reception of Company to receive a Contribution of One Shilling only, from each Person residing in such Houses, for the Benefit of the Charity. And upon the Departure of one of the Stewards, the departing Steward hath nominated a Successor; and in order to ascertain the Sums contributed, the Stewards for the Time being, at each House, have kept a Subscription Book, in which the Contributors have respectively written their Names and the sum of One Shilling opposite thereto; and as the Subscriptions have amounted to competent Sums, the Stewards have paid over the same to Mr. Samuel Buxton, Apothecary, in Buxton, as Treasurer, to be applied by him towards the Aid and Support of the Poor, whose Infirmities have caused them to come to Buxton for the Use of the Waters; for which Sums the said Mr. Buxton hath signed Receipts in the Subscription Books. Resolved that such practice be continued, and that no Person be permitted to subscribe a greater Sum than One Shilling in the books; and that the Receipts of Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the time being, in the Subscription Books, be sufficient Discharges to the Stewards for what they receive.

Resolved, That it be recommended to future Stewards to hold an Audit on the 13th of September, yearly, to inspect the Accounts of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, and to state Accounts of the preceding Year in like manner as the Accounts are this Day stated in the Subscription Book at the Hall. And it is declared, that the Allowance of a Duplicate of the Account by any two of the Stewards, under their hands, shall be a sufficient discharge to Mr. Buxton, and all future Treasurers.

Resolved, That all future contributors to the Charity do subscribe thereto upon the terms of these Resolutions.

2nd. As to the Admission of the Objects of this Charity.

Resolved, That no Inhabitant of Buxton, Fairfield, or of any place within Seven Miles distance from Buxton, be admitted to partake of the Charity; nor any Person be relieved during the months of November, December, January, February, March, or April; and that during the remaining six Months of the Year, not more than sixteen Objects, at one Time, be relieved by the Charity. And that no Person shall be admitted on any other Day than Monday in every Week, between the Hours of eight and twelve in the Forenoon; on which Day, during such Hours, the weekly allowance to each Individual shall also be paid.

Resolved, That before the patient intending to take the benefit of the Charity be removed from where he or she dwells, Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be applied to by Letter, Postpaid, signifying such Intention, mentioning the Patient's Name, Place of Abode, and Nature of the Disorder; and that no Person be admitted unless there be a vacancy in the Number of Sixteen, and unless he or she first produces to the Treasurer his own Letter written in answer to such Application, and also a Letter of Recommendation from some Lady or Gentleman, resident in the Neighbourhood, certifying whether the Patient is relieved by his or her Parish, or not, and if not, whether he or she is a proper Object, with Respect to Circumstances; and in case he or she is a Pauper, relieved by the Parish, then also a Certificate signed by the Churchwardens or Overseers of the Poor, that the Pauper's Settlement is in the Parish from which he or she is sent; and also a Certificate from a Physician or Apothecary, that the case is proper for the Buxton Waters.

Resolved, That the Names and Places of Abode of the Objects admitted, be entered by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, in a Book (of which Book each Contributor is to have free Inspection), with a Description of the Patient's Disorder; and after his or her Discharge a Minute of the Consequence of the Use of the Waters.

3rd. As to the Application of the Charity Fund.

It being the Intention of the Contributors, that the Money arising from the Contributions, be in every Case applied for the purposes of supplying the Patients during their Stay at Buxton, with Board, Lodging, and Medicines only; all Ladies and Gentlemen recommending Patients, and all Churchwardens and Overseers giving Certificates, are therefore particularly desired to take notice, that in Case the Patients shall be admitted to partake of the Charity, and shall die in the Parishes of Buxton or Fairfield, or in any Place within seven Miles Distance from Buxton, before he or she shall have actually returned to his or her own Parish, such Persons recommending, and such Churchwardens and Overseers certifying, shall be liable to pay the Expenses of the Funeral of such Patients respectively; and that the Charity Money, on no Account whatever, will be suffered to be applied to defray Travelling Expenses, either to or from Buxton.

Resolved, That no Patient be admitted more than once during a Season, nor be relieved, by the Charity, for a longer space of time than five Weeks, from the Date of his or her Admission, nor with a greater Sum than Six Shillings each Week. But for how long a Time he or she shall be relieved less than five Weeks, or what allowance shall be made him or her less than Six Shillings per Week, shall be at the discretion of Mr. Buxton, or of the Treasurer for the Time being, taking the advice of the resident Physician, or Physicians, on the Case, who it is hoped, will kindly consent to give gratuitous Assistance, when necessary.

Resolved, That Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, be at liberty to retain all his necessary Expenses, occasioned by the Administration of the Charity, over and above what shall be expended in Board, Lodging, and Medicines.

Resolved, That if any Object receiving the Benefit of this Charity, shall beg or receive Alms, during his or her stay at Buxton, or be guilty of prophane Swearing, Drunkenness, Impertinence, or any gross misbehaviour, he or she shall be instantly (on complaint made) discharged from the Charity.

Ordered, That these Resolutions be printed, and hung up in as public a manner as possible, in the several Houses in Buxton, kept open for the Reception of Company, and wherever Contributions are received; and that the said Resolutions be sent by Mr. Buxton, or the Treasurer for the Time being, to every Person recommending a Patient, as a proper Object to partake of the Benefit of this Charity.

Benefactions in aid of this Fund will be received at the Buxton branch of the Sheffield and Rotherham Banking Company, who are the treasurers of the Hospital, or by Mr. Joseph Taylor, Secretary, Devonshire Hospital, Buxton, Derbyshire.

The Clock Tower has been erected from the proceeds of the COMPLETION FUND. The Portico will be commenced as soon as sufficient funds are available. In addition to the value of the Clock Tower and Portico on general grounds, the erection of the Clock Tower has greatly enhanced the appearance of the Exterior of the Hospital, and has shown the architectural desirability of the Portico, independently of its value as shelter to the principal entrance.

THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORT FOR 1883,

FROM THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT THE

DEVONSHIRE HOSPITAL, BUXTON.

The weather of 1883 may be considered on the whole quite equal to the best kind usually expected in this locality. The barometer maintained a height a little above the average, the range between the highest and lowest being narrower. In the average temperature we find a very slight decrease, merely a fraction of a degree; the average solar radiation is lower by upwards of two degrees; the average terrestrial radiation is higher by about half a degree. The average temperature of the dew point is less by about half a degree. The rainfall shows a decrease of upwards of 10 inches, and 34 days less on which rain, &c., fell. The number of miles traversed by the wind exceeded that of 1882 by upwards of 9,000 miles, the mean estimated force at the time of observation being also greater. Cloud and ozone are slightly less in amount. A larger total number of hours of sunshine has been reached in comparison with the past year, also a larger number of days on which sunshine was recorded. The month of January opened unexpectedly with a warm sunshiny day in the morning part, followed in the afternoon and evening by rough wind and rain, which continued, with more or less violence, for several days afterwards; fog or mist prevailed frequently during the month; a very heavy storm of wind, snow, hail, and rain occurred from the 26th to the 28th; the missel thrush was heard on the 2nd; buds were well developed on the flowering currants by the 5th, and were bursting into leaf by the 17th; a lunar halo was seen on the 17th. February commenced with a snow storm, which was repeated on several occasions during the first half of the month; the latter half was most conspicuous by a larger amount of bright sunshine and strong winds; a lunar halo and the aurora borealis were seen on the 16th, and on the 19th a lunar halo was seen also. The snowdrop and polyanthus were in bloom on the 2nd. Rooks were actively engaged in building operations on the 9th; buds on the lilacs and hawthorns were very prominent by the 17th, and on the rose trees, barberry, and privet by the 24th. The temperature of March was fairly of an average character for the first four days, afterwards followed a period of intense cold, retarding for a time the progress that had been so well established in the vegetable kingdom; this severity was of such an extent that, although many hours of sunshine were recorded, they appeared quite ineffectual to mitigate the evil influence of the decreased temperature, the result of this was that March had the lowest average temperature of any month during the year. Snow and hail fell on several days; the violence of the wind was most prominent from the 20th to the 23rd, this being the only period of wind other than ordinary during the month; the smallest monthly amount of rainfall was collected. A complete change in many respects was produced at the beginning of April, the warm temperature was again resumed apparently where February ended, sunshine prevailed throughout whole days, from which a beneficial power was soon exerted over vegetation, many of the half-expanded buds which had been blackened and shrivelled up during the inclement weather of March began once more to put forth new energy, causing a pretty green tint to be visible on nearly every bush or tree; the rhododendrons, after suffering perhaps the most from the late frost, began to revive, but many of the flower buds perished entirely;

the common daisy and coltsfoot were beginning to bloom before the 7th; buds on the lilac were bursting by the 11th, on the mountain ash by the 12th, and on the sycamore by the 13th; on the 14th the privet, sycamore, and hawthorn had come into leaf; the box was in flower on the 16th; swallows were seen on the 26th, and the cuckoo heard on the 27th. The first half of the month was totally without rain. May was essentially a flowery month, the warmth of April was continued with the exception of a few days at the commencement: many slight showers occurred. Snow fell on two or three days during the first fortnight; also during this period a thunder storm happened, accompanied by snow and hail; the limes and horse chestnuts were bursting into leaf on the 7th, the elms on the 15th, the broom and beech on the 20th, the barberry in flower and flower buds on the lilacs on the 24th; rhododendrons in flower on the 25th, and lilacs on the 28th. The first part of June was fair and sunshiny, the latter part stormy; there were two days during the month on which upwards of an inch of rain fell; thunder storms occurred on the 25th, 26th, and 29th. The mountain ash and broom were flowering on the 2nd; flower buds on the hawthorn bursting on the 5th. On two days upwards of 15 hours of sunshine were registered. The temperature continued high during the whole month of July; the rainfall was below the average; three thunder storms happened during the early portion of the month, on each occasion accompanied with rain. Sunshine was registered on every day of the month; a solar halo was seen on the 20th. There was fruit on the mountain ash and horse chestnut on the 15th, the lime was flowering at the same time; a little snow fell on the 14th; the wind was very quiet during this month. August maintained the high temperature of the previous month: a rainfall below the average was registered; strong winds were more frequent; sunshine was registered on 30 days. The privet was in flower on the 1st; the weather of this month was very satisfactory. September continued with a temperature considerably above the average; the first and last thirds of the month were somewhat showery. Sunshine was recorded on most days, some registrations being upwards of 8 hours; occasional heavy dews were observed; several heavy gales were noticed. The temperature of October was the first commencement of a retrograde movement, which without being very low was sufficient to be perceptible, more so on account of frequent showers of leaves from such trees as the lime and sycamores; some of the hardier trees retained their foliage much later; a thunder storm occurred on the 3rd; several gales more or less violent happened occasionally; the rainfall was a little above the average; there were only a few days without sunshine. There was a slight diminution in the temperature during November; this came about without any degree of suddenness or intensity; in this a very favourable comparison may be drawn with January, February, and March; towards the end of the month several storms of wind or snow were present, sometimes hail accompanied; a lunar halo was seen on the 11th; sunshine was recorded on most days. And the temperature of December suffered only a slight decrease on that of the previous month, mildness being an especial characteristic. Mist or fog prevailed on many occasions; snow and hail fell but rarely; towards the end of the month several terrific gales occurred, causing considerable damage in many districts, but of a very limited nature in this; the mildness of the month may be shown from the fact that many garden flowers, as the scarlet daisies and polyanthus were blooming uninterruptedly through the whole month: the rainfall was about the average; the greatest fall of rain in one day occurred on the 10th.

The Barometer.—The mean height of the barometrical readings for the last fourteen years was 29·869 inches; the mean height of the readings for 1883, when reduced to the sea level and corrected for temperature to 32° F., was 29·962 inches, or above that of last year by ·075 of an inch. The barometer recorded its maximum height, 29·747 inches (unreduced), on February 23rd, being ·090 of an inch below that of 1882; and its minimum, 27·780 (unreduced), on the 2nd February, below the minimum of last year by ·071 of an inch. The range between the maximum and minimum was 1·967 inches, or ·019 of an inch less than that of the previous year; the mean average range for the year 1883 was 1·219 inches, or ·079 of an inch below that of 1882.

The Temperature in the Shade.—The average mean temperature of the air for the last fourteen years was 45°1; the mean temperature of the air for 1883 was 44°5, or ·2 less than that of last year. The maximum degree of temperature in the shade was $74^{\circ}5$ on July 2nd, or $^{\circ}1$ more than that of the previous year; the minimum $5^{\circ}0$ was registered on March 10th, being an increase of $9^{\circ}0$ on the amount of the former year. The total annual range is $69^{\circ}5$, or $8^{\circ}9$ less than that of 1882; the mean monthly range is $35^{\circ}3$ or $^{\circ}8$ more than that of the previous year. The mean diurnal range is $14^{\circ}6$ showing an increase of $1^{\circ}1$ on that of 1882. The greatest range of temperature that occurred in one day was $34^{\circ}7$, on September 8th; and the least $2^{\circ}7$ on January 11th.

Radiation.—The maximum degree of solar radiation was $130^{\circ}8$ on the 2nd July, which was $1^{\circ}5$ more than that of the previous year; the minimum degree of the terrestrial radiator was $6^{\circ}6$ on March 10th, above that of the previous year by $6^{\circ}6$. The total annual range between the maximum and minimum of radiation was $124^{\circ}2$, showing a decrease of $5^{\circ}1$. The mean average monthly range of radiation for the year was $89^{\circ}2$: the greatest range of radiation occurring in one day was $101^{\circ}2$ on March 9th; and the least $3^{\circ}2$ on January 12th. There were 171 nights on which the temperature was at 32° or below, which shows an increase of 1 night on the amount in the previous year.

The Hygrometrical Condition of the Atmosphere.—The mean temperature of the dew point for the last fourteen years is 41° . The average mean temperature of the dew point for 1883 was $41^{\circ}4$, $^{\circ}4$ less than the mean of 1882; the mean degree of humidity ($^{\circ}844$) was less than that of 1882—that is, assuming 1.000 as a standard point when the atmosphere is thoroughly saturated with moisture. The average mean elastic force of vapour was $\cdot 268$ inches, or $\cdot 004$ less than that of 1882; the mean weight of vapour in a cubic foot of air was $3\cdot 07$ grains, or $\cdot 03$ grains less than that of the previous year. The mean amount of additional vapour required to saturate a cubic foot of air was $\cdot 61$ grains, or $\cdot 09$ grains less than the quantity required in 1882.

The Rainfall.—The average mean amount of rainfall at Buxton for the last eighteen years was $58\cdot 258$ inches. The amount collected at Buxton for 1883 was $55\cdot 345$ inches, or $10\cdot 512$ inches less than in 1882. The maximum fall of rain during 24 hours was $1\cdot 25$ inches on the 10th December.
